TAILOR MADE STYLE

The resolution to give our customers the best shoe made, is the reason we say "Empress Shoes for Women." This illustration is one of the new styles we have in stock. Note the wing toe cap and arched instep, and the complete natty appearance which makes it a very desirable shoe. WE ARE ONE OF THE 500 AGENTS WHO SELL THE EMPRESS

When you examine the Empress Shoe illustrated here you will immediately note that it is not an ordinary shoe. The last has life and snap, the pattern style, and fits the foot perfectly, arching and supporting the instep as few shoes will do.

Why Should I Use Cuticura Soap?

"There is nothing the matter with my skin, and I thought Cuticura Soap was only for skin troubles." True, it is for skin troubles, but its great mission is to prevent skin troubles. For more than a generation its delicate emollient and prophylactic properties have rendered it the standard for this purpose, while its extreme purity and refreshing fragrance give it all the advantages of the best of toilet soaps.
It is also invaluable in keeping the hands soft and white, the hair lively and glossy, and the scalp free from dandruff and irritation.

Whilst its first cost is a few cents more than that of ordinary toilet soaps, it is prepared with such care and of such materials, that it wears to a wafer, often outlasting several cakes of other soap, and making its use, in practice, most economical. Cuticura Soap is sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, but the truth of these claims may be demonstrated without cost by sending to "Cuticura," Dept. 7M, Boston, U.S.A., for a liberal sample cake; together with a thirty-two page book on the skin and hair.

suffering has found complete relief through Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Now he knows how need as smoke or vapor it brings the help so long needed. Every dealer has it

"Nothing I tried helped me.
At last some one told me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and when I had finished the first bottle I felt better. Four bottles made a new woman of me."

No remedy ever given to the public has brought health and happiness to so many women as Dodd's Kidney of the cases of kidney disease occur in women. No woman who uses Dodd's

MARCH WEATHER RHEUMATIC WEATHER

Victims Can Cure Themselves With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

With the coming of year people who are afflicted with rheumatism begin to have unpleasant reminders of their trouble. The weather is changeable—hailing and springlike one day, raw and blustering the next. It is this sudden change of weather that sets the pains and tortures of rheumatism, lumbago and sciatica abreast. But much can be done to combat this. And when we begin to complain start the pains, the trouble is deeply rooted in the blood and can only be removed through the blood. All the time we are illiterate in the art of removing the trouble. That is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have so many thousands of cures of this trouble to their credit.
The new red blood which they are continually creating is free from poisonous acid, and rheumatism is vanquished.
Here is an example. Mr. W. C. Douglas, Webbwood, Ont., says:
"I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism which spread through my entire system. For two months I was not able to go about, and seemed to be hovering between life and death. My limbs were swollen and my legs and arms twisted until I expected that they would never return to their normal shape. The doctor seemed to help me, but not to cure me. I was in constant pain day and worse the next. At this time a friend strongly urged me to try Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills and I got a dozen bottles. When I took the first few pills there was a change for the better, and I continued taking the pills until I was quite well again. The doctor was amazed at the rapidity of my limbs returned to their natural shape and I feel as if Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved me from being a rheumatic cripple. I hope my example may prove a blessing to some other sufferer."

If you suffer from rheumatism, or any other disease of the blood, begin to cure it now. Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

useful to women in all parts of Can-

WOMEN MAY AVOID OPERATIONS

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The following letter from Mrs.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Book will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.

Here is her own statement.

Hornell, Pa., Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement. I had to remain in bed a long time. My physician treated me for months with various remedies and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was so weak and feeble when I came home suffering worse than before. My physician advised me to take Lydia E.

E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe it to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs.
Lydia E. Pinkham, Rock, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once call in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and perfectly restored the health of thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

A Sensible View

A great deal of talk has been engaged in by some western newspapers over the grain movement situation in which they try to lay blame not alone on the railroads but on the farmers as well. The following editorial taken from Cole's Weekly seems to us to be a very sensible way of looking at the matter and so we take the liberty of copying it.

"While few Canadians will pay much attention to the unguarded remarks of a liberal legislator who says that West and East should separate because their tariff interests seem to him to be inconsistent, at the same time it is reassuring to remember that there will soon be three double strands of steel binding Canada East to Canada West instead of the one. Considering the enormous national strains which bear upon that single C. P. R. line between Sudbury and Winnipeg, observing how a few single strands of copper wire carry the interchanges of national news along the north shore—we are compelled to admire the indomitable spirit of brotherhood which holds together East and West through these slender means. It is very true that for lack of railway accommodation the West seemed about to be strangled with its own abundance, and it was not to be wondered at when men of intense local patriotism, seeing the wheat rotting on the prairies, forged the larger scheme of things and spoke of "separation." Yet those who have more patience took these experiences as part of the tempering of the sword. Probably some blame attached to the railways for their failure to cope with the enormous crop no doubt some attached to the Western farmer for failing to provide himself with storage facilities. But neither the railways nor the farmers nor the nation wilfully neglected anything. The East suffered quite as much as the West by the break in the transportation system. The matter was a national matter, an incident in our education by which we shall be able to guide ourselves more wisely in the future."

Forestry Press Bulletin No. 57

The survey party sent out by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior to explore the country around Lesser Slave Lake, Athabasca, has found that here, as elsewhere throughout the northern forest country, a greater part of the mer-chantable timber has been destroyed by fire. The whole country was originally covered with a dense growth of white spruce, black spruce and lodepole pine which appear to have escaped fire up to 1885. Fires which have started since that date have denuded large areas. Timber which has escaped fire shows that the previous forest was both dense and valuable.
The forest here produces occasionally as much as 30,000 feet board measure, of timber per acre. This is a greater quantity than is found in either Manitoba or Saskatchewan.

The survey party reports that around Lesser Slave Lake there is a large area of land to high and hilly for agriculture. This land is admirably situated for the production of spruce and lodgepole pine timber. In order that it may be properly managed in the future and protected from fire, the Forestry Branch is seeking to have it set aside as a permanent forest reserve.

The timber from such a forest reserve would be accessible to the Edmonton district. It could be floated down the Athabasca river to Athabasca Landing, and then carried down by rail at a comparatively low cost.

deceiving sun struck the room with a low shaft of light. The face of a woman in a faded painting on the mantelpiece was illumined, and seemed to smile back with bitter mockery.

Harris crossed to the picture and understood the name given to the room. It represented a seated figure in the fanciful costume made popular by Anna Densmore, the three-pie-crown hat still used by Welsh peasants. The dress was stiff and bejeweled, and a high rim framed the face, but the painter had succeeded in imbuing the thin little face of the lady with a more sinister and unpleasant expression than faded as the picture was, the black eyes still glistened to scoff, the thin-lipped mouth to close upon a bitter pilule.

Underneath, painted upon the wall, was the date, 1629, with the words:

"Helen, first Lady Clavel."

Harris could not rid himself of the feeling that the sneering eyes of the picture were watching him.

He had been delighted with the aspect of the room, but now he felt glad to leave it. In the dining-room an excellent supper awaited him, and he could not help at himself for being halfafraid of the picture of his own ancestress.

His adventures were only just starting; but that night he was thoroughly beaten, though even the touch of honest enthusiasm which warmed him, happier then, with all his illusions intact, than at any later date, during his stay there.

The following evening, after waiting through the open window, called him outside, and he strolled on to the gravel path with a cigarette between his lips, and listened to the pleasant farm sounds about him as he leaned upon the gate.

He felt that his feet must go where his heart led him, so he took his coat off, took her walk alone, his beautiful bright-haired lady. Even if he could not feast his eyes upon her, or rejoice his ears with the music of her voice, there was nothing to prevent him from passing, as a hasty wayfarer, along the road which skirted her domain.

There was no sign of human habitation, save the simple Loders' Ashwoods, which were enclosed within a high stone wall. Harry reached at length a wooden gate, set some way off from the road, overgrown by elm trees, and which was painted green so that it easily escaped attention. There was a padlock on the gate, but his impatience caused him to unfasten, and, greatly daring, he pushed the door open and entered.

A road roughly made, and deep in moss outside the cart roads, led him through a track on the left, to a long, pale, patterned house, with a gabled end, in the right-hand window, and a lantern was hung over the arched gateway. A shadowed doorway of the gabled end was thrown open, following a course marked for him in a dream rather than obeying his own will. Harry put his hand upon the iron ring, and pushed the doors, and tried to push them open.

They resisted his efforts, but while still enmeshed upon them, he heard the sound of a draw within the gatehouse, and, as he turned to look, he saw a man pass by, and a lantern of a voice to which he had listened once, but which was always echoing in his head.

He drew back quickly, and stood behind the shadow of the trees. He heard her unlock the gate, and stand before it, her hood thrown back from her head, her face upturned in the moonlight.

He was very near to her, and saw her expression clearly. He caught his breath at the sight. Of what was she thinking as she paused there, gazing at the sky above her? Her fingers opened, tears shining on her lashes, and over her whole face a look of radiance of glorified joy—that had something spiritual about it.

He stood silent, and not daring to move, as a present was known. Her look seemed a secret between herself and heaven. He felt that to surprise it was a trespass.

Presently he came to earth again, and gave a little uttering sigh. By sheer accident at that moment his heel broke a twig with the sharp report such trifles as in the dead of night-things, and with a start, Lady Anne turned her head in his direction.

Very humbly, he came forward and stood before her, his hands in his pockets. "I am afraid I am trespassing," he said.

There was no mistaking the expression of annoyance, even as it appeared, of dislike, which suddenly took all the lovely softness from her face. "Are you here to see me?" she asked. "I could have thought you would have exhausted all the attractions Grayborne can offer to the excursionist long ago."

"Not all," he answered, stung to a redness, "I have not seen Loders' Abbey yet."

She hesitated a moment, and then asked:

"Are you staying for that? I mean the exaggerated idea of the beauty of these ruins which keeps you?"

"I should like to see them," he replied.

CHAPTER XIII.
The Abbey Gates.

The Witch's Room."

It was a big square chamber on the first floor of the Abbey, with a deep gable forming the roof, in which was a small attic window.

The Witch's Room looked warm and comfortable, illuminated as it was by the deepest shade of blue in the sky. A pair of deep red on the walls met the old-fashioned panelings, from which the whitewash had been peeled and which was decorated with the "limes" which were popular in Tudor days. Over the oak flooring a red rug was spread, and on it lay a giant. "Discovered" from which the clothes and head removed, still bore traces on the pillars of elaborate carving. The rest of the furniture was of the solid material, though it looked aged.

The Witch's Room was divided into tiny square panes, and below it sheltered on each side by curtains of dark red, which were drawn to keep out the light.

He had seen that afternoon the girl who had been passing. Over the ground he had trodden, her feet must often have taken her in those days, of which the sexton had spoken, when her hair was yellow as giltcupps, and her eyes were blue as the summer skies.

Small wonder that wild Roger Chalice had seen her should be leading him into the room.

And now for seven years both he and her gallan young听课者 had lain silent in the tomb, and Lady Anne did not know any mysteries of the past which would bring her back to life. Harry told himself that he must be the task of reviving the name of Clavel and of hearing Lady Anne tell him of her return to Lydiington Court as mistress.

He smiled hopefully as he turned from the window. Suddenly, as the sun began to set, he heard a noise.

He drew back quickly, and stood behind the shadow of the trees.

He heard her unlock the gate, and stand before it, her hood thrown back from her head, her face upturned in the moonlight.

He was very near to her, and saw her expression clearly. He caught his breath at the sight. Of what was she thinking as she paused there, gazing at the sky above her? WAR AND PEACE FACTIONS IN GERMANY AT VARIANCE

Ministerial Crisis is Said to be Imminent, the Nation Being Divided on Question of Plans to Increase The Army and Navy

Berlin.—The conflict between the war and peace factions in the government has become so acute that the foreign secretary, Herr Von Kiderlin-Waechter, is reported to have decided to retire.

His successor will be Count J. H. Von Bernstorff, the present ambassador to the United States, who is held in the highest regard for the statesmanlike qualities of the present representative of the nation at Washington. The retirement of Herr Kiderlin-Waechter will not take place for some time, as he will be retained by the ministry to advise him. He could not insist on retiring until after his mandatory return from Corfu.

The imperial chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg, is also said to be in diplomatic circles that he told the Kaiser he wanted to retire, but that, like the foreign secretary, he deferred action until the Kaiser had had his much-needed rest and is back in the capital.

The nation is divided as a result of the general discussion of the plans to increase both the army and navy.

The chancellor has been denounced as being responsible for keeping the expenditure restricted to the resources of the country.

In certain quarters it is believed that the German people will be only preliminary to his assuming the duties of chancellor.

There is no question that the Germans are not in accord on Germany's present attitude toward England.

How serious the breach is, of course, depends on the details of the policy adopted by the chancellor. It is known that a number of the high officials believe the government should make it plain that it respects the tone of the speech of Lord Balfour at the time Winston Churchill, in his speech in the house of commons, and it is likely this will be one of the first matters taken up by the Kaiser when he returns from his brief vacation.

MILLIONS FOR RAILWAYS

Quebec Government Will Grant $10,000,000 For Construction in Prairie.

Toronto.—That the transportation situation in the Canadian West is satisfactory is the view of John L. Willis, superintendent of the Traders Bank branches, who has just returned from a visit to ports in the St. Lawrence river district.

Mr. Willis expressed this view and suggested how the transport situation in the West might be revised. He is strongly in favor of the idea that the railways will be developed before Fort Churchill.

"I travelled," said Mr. Willis, "over the Goose Lake branch of the C.N.R., which is the most difficult section of the railway, and I observed that the district I observed was dotted with grainaries filled with grain of good quality. But there are railroads, unable to be transferred to marine traffic, where the grainaries are derelict, and the banks, too, a bank manager threatens to seize a farmer's wheat to cover the latter's notes if the farmer says 'Get me out of it' and take it, but what can you do with it?"

"Now," continued Mr. Willis, "the immediate opening up of the railroads to the other side of Hudson's Bay port is of deepest concern to all the farmers of the area tributary to such railway, an area which really at present seems to include the entire prairie, except the Athabasca, except the small south eastern corner.

Manitoba would naturally continue to go through Port Arthur and Fort Garry."

"Construction on the railway has begun at Le Pas, but it should also become active at Port Nelson, to carry out its original promise which I saw in the Western papers to make the 1913 grain crop over that route if at all possible."

"Those who wonder whether Fort Garry or Port Arthur will be the strategic point at present may rest assured that the latter will be developed first, for I believe that both will be developed. Facts contained in the engineer's reports very largely favor Port Nelson."

Navy Some Good

Rainbow Fired $1,000 Capturing Passaic Vessel.

Ottawa.—The Pacific division of the Canadian navy has been the means of an addition slightly exceeding $12,000 to the Canadian treasury.

The naval gun, last summer caught the Seattle ship Eddie poacher in Canadian waters, within the three mile limit.

The Eddie was concentrated and endeavored to show that the fishing had been done outside the limit. The supreme court of British Columbia was appealed and the Eddie was released and ordered the sale of the vessel by public auction.

The marine department recieved word that the old had brought the government $13,000.

Many Anticrash Wrecks.

Ottawa.—The department of marine and fisheries is preparing a chart showing the wrecks of wrecks of Indian Anticrash ships since 1880.

The chart shows the south coast to be closely fringed with wrecks the north coast and points of the lake also having many.

No fewer than one hundred and ten ships are recorded as having been lost on these coasts. The government has now four modern lights on Anticrash.

Drive Mormons From Sweden.

Stockholm, Sweden.—More than 100 Mormon agents who have been proselytizing in Sweden for the last few years, and Mormon missionaries who are here, have been ordered to leave by act of parliament.

The Swedish parliament has had a long discussion over the question and has just agreed on the Mormon expulsion, and the agents a good sum funds for a thorough anti-Mormon campaign

PICTURE SHOW AIDS CHARITY

London Has Plan to Devote Part of Proceeds to Destitute.

London.—What charitable gains by a statement issued by the London Sun have been ascertained by the announcement of a new scheme by which such places may be opened to charity, that the profits are devoted to charity, has been in operation for six months now, which period of time the sum of $1,000 has been turned over to the cause of charity.

There are 186 picture palaces open under this arrangement. The gross amount of money raised by the scheme is estimated at $100,000 every Sunday in this form of Sunday amusement. The total expenditure is $240,000, of which $60,000 went in wages.

Made in Canada.

Toronto.—The itinerary of the "Made in Canada exhibition train," which is to travel across Western Canada with the quality and variety of Canadian goods has been definitely decided upon.

This tour will start on May 20, and after spending a day east of Ottawa, Toronto, the train will proceed to Port Arthur, leaving there May 23 and will call at the hundred principal cities and towns in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, reaching Winnipeg on the return journey about June 23 and Toronto about two days later.

Will Push Construction.

Edmonton.—The announcement was made here by J. D. McArthur, president of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and Fort Vermilion railway.

A hundred men will be put to work opening up a line to the great Peace River country in the spring. He expects to have the grade completed beyond the Athabasca river before the winter.

Drive Mormons From Sweden.

Stockholm, Sweden.—More than 100

Mormon agents who have been pros-elytizing in Sweden for the last few years, and Mormon missionaries who are here, have been ordered to leave by act of parliament.

The Swedish parliament has had a long discussion over the question and has just agreed on the Mormon expulsion, and the agents a good sum funds for a thorough anti-Mormon campaign

THE JAPANESE MENACE

Subject of Address Before Royal Colonial Institute by F. B. Vrooman.

London.—In a well attended meeting of the Royal Colonial Institute,

P. B. Vrooman read a paper on "British Columbia and the Imperial Outlook," in the course of which he said:

"The world today is dominated by Asia and Asiatic imperialism.

It is impossible to overestimate the momentous nature of the Japanese threat to British Columbia which is rapidly occupying unbroken and uncolonized Canada is a prey to the predatory and unscrupulous manufacturers and traders of Japanese origin.

Japan is pursuing an unreasonable programme and plainly we cannot accept.

Not satisfied with the vast areas of land which she has already secured in the western Pacific she now wants more quickly any sweeping influx of foreigners into her land and of ships to transport them.

She is not content with the usual percentage of moisture and will have more or less dried heads being milled.

The value of dried grain is now $100 per ton.

It is not difficult to imagine what would happen if she were to get control of the western hemisphere.

The west had a practical illustration of this last fall when the Survey Board late in the season, saw fit to call a meeting in the town of Quinte six weeks earlier than in the year before to make a new survey.

Quite a number of the farmers and others who were interested in the matter adjourned

Edmonton Spring Show

The annual Edmonton Spring Show, which will this year be held on the exhibition grounds and under the auspices and management of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, on April 16 and 17, promises to be a big success. The Department of Agriculture has this year made a liberal grant to the Edmonton Spring Show, with the result that a very attractive prize list is being offered for horses, cattle, sheep and swine. The entries for this show, with the exception of the purebred cattle and swine offered for sale, close on Saturday, April 6. Prize lists, catalogues of sale and any information regarding the show may be obtained by writing the secretary, W. McC. Moore, Box 216, Edmonton.

March Rod and Gun

"An Experience Off the Coast of Newfoundland: Hunting the Hair Seal," opens the March issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont., and the interest of this article is a creation of the interest of those that follow, which include articles descriptive of outdoor life from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Among the first of a series of articles on the culture of Black and Silver Foxes, which should prove of value to the man seeking practical information on this subject. A new feature this month is the creation of a Game Conservation Department edited by Mr. Frank Hyde, wherein matters pertaining to the subject of game conservation will be freely discussed. As this subject is a live one at the present time, and is likely to be for some time to come, or until the improved laws for which good sportsmen are agitating have been enacted, this department should prove of exceptional interest.

Hat Will Continue on Main Line

Medicine Hat, March 20.—News has been received in the city that the C. P. R. has abandoned its plan for a division of their main line by the building of a line from Swift Current to Bassano. Instead, according to a map which has been placed in the hands of the minister of railways at Ottawa, the line will run from Swift Current to Camrose. This does away with the report that Medicine Hat was to be sidetracked.

Whitla townsite will be moved two miles. The appeal of the people against this action on the part of the C. P. R. was not allowed. The C. P. R. has agreed to give the residents of the town a lot in the new townsite for every lot they owned in the original townsite, but they themselves will have to move the buildings.
